Minutes for the December 10, 2002 meeting were approved as written.

Executive Director’s Report
Dr. Rachel Fowlkes began her report by summarizing activities over the past year. She noted that the Center lost three positions during the budget cuts. Fortunately, no one had to be laid off due to natural attrition. Three employees found other job opportunities elsewhere. Rachel also noted that the Center would not fund the librarian position at Virginia Highlands Community College in FY 2004. Again, natural attrition helped the SVHEC avoid a layoff. The person who held the position is moving. Dr. Fowlkes noted that the Center plans to hire a person to assist Christine Fields with the $3.8 million Tobacco Scholarship program. The position will be funded through the Tobacco Commission.

Rachel reported that the General Obligation Bond passed and the Center received $1.9 million. $375,000 will be available in fiscal year 2004 to begin renovations for the Culinary Arts Kitchen for the Virginia Intermont program. Preliminary drawings were included in the board book. She announced that Food City planned to donate the equipment for the kitchen.

Dr. Fowlkes referred the board to the Enrollment Report in the board materials. She highlighted that in Spring 2003 there were 284 courses offered, 1176 registrations, and 3031 credit hours.

Rachel highlighted the Export Initiative program that is a grant project funded by the Virginia Tobacco Commission. The program is to help local southwest Virginia business develop international sales opportunities. There was an international video conference in May where the SVHEC hosted a live program from the US Embassy in Santiago, Chile matching southwest Virginia businesses with companies in Chile.

Budget Report

Christine Fields referred the Board to the Fiscal Year 2003 budget report. Chris reported that the Center prepaid 10% of the Fiscal Year 2004 cut which was $22,000. The total projected revenue for Fiscal Year 2003 is $2.449 million. Chris reported that the Center exceeded its non-general fund revenue projections by $12,000. She reminded the Board that the Center had set aside a contingency fund to help offset any unexpected expenses that might arise during the year. Unused contingency funds were allocated to prepay postage for FY2004, purchase additional office supplies, pay the SVETN fee for the University of Virginia’s College at Wise for the next three years, prepay VHCC 2004 Arts Array fees, purchase chairs for classroom 240, improve administrative offices, add security cameras in the parking lot, purchase book illustrations from Charles Vess, upgrade computer equipment, and purchase additional sections for the dance floor.

Ms. Fields presented Proposed Fiscal Year 2004 Operating Budget. She highlighted that the total General Fund revenue would be $264,000 less in FY04 than in FY2003. Total revenue will be $1,904,914. Chris informed the Board that benefits would increase from 26.5% to 30.5%. This is an increase of $60,000 in personal services. She highlighted other line items changes in the Fiscal Year 2004 budget: Repairs and Maintenance Services was increased by $11,000; $12,000 was added to marketing; and $27,500 was budgeted for a shared Career Counseling position with Virginia Highlands Community College. Reductions were made in the librarian funding of $53,000 and in Building Improvement and Special Projects of $200,000. A contingency fund was again budgeted at 10% of the operating budget for unexpected expenses and special projects.

The Proposed Fiscal Year 2004 budget was approved.
